Product Description

55220-2S100 Suspension Control Arm For Hyundai For Kia Sportage 2010-2017 55220 2S100

Product Description:

A control arm, commonly known as an A-arm or wishbone is a vital part of a vehicle's suspension system. This piece plays an important role in linking the suspension elements to the car's chassis and monitoring the rotation of the wheels. Typically, control arms are found in both the front and back suspension of a car, even though their design and layout may differ.

Features:

Our control arm is crafted from high-quality materials, such as forged or cast steel, aluminum, or composite materials, ensuring strength, durability, and resistance to wear and corrosion. It is built to withstand the demands of daily driving and various road conditions. The control arm's role is crucial in linking the suspension components, such as the wheel hub assembly and steering knuckle, to the vehicle's chassis. It provides the necessary structural support and flexibility to control the motion of the wheels, maintaining proper alignment and enhancing handling and stability. It also helps maintain proper wheel alignment, ensuring even tire wear, optimal handling, and improved vehicle stability. It allows for controlled vertical movement of the wheels, providing enhanced traction and responsiveness during acceleration, braking, and cornering. The control arm is designed for straightforward installation, making it suitable for both professional mechanics. It's also a direct fit replacement for your vehicle's original control arm, providing you with compatibility and a hassle-free installation process. For a reliable and durable product, our control arm undergoes rigorous testing and quality control measures to meet or exceed industry standards. It's manufactured by trusted suppliers who prioritize quality and performance.
